NEW BENEFIT!!!

As an added benefit to Collinsville businesses, the City is now offering a business listing in our business directory for the 2009 license year. The listing will be available to the public via our new and improved website, and will be searchable by business category. This valuable benefit is free of charge to all licensed or registered Collinsville businesses. Be sure to include your website link if you have one; otherwise the name, address, and phone number of the business will be listed.

Also new in 2009 is the opportunity for businesses to request communication regarding your business license be transmitted by email. Simply provide your email address, and future correspondence, renewal forms, and announcements will be sent via email.....green and paper free!
